Terms of Use

Terms of Use

The COMPASS self-check tool ("the Tool") is made available free of charge to help companies learn how to effectively integrate Responsible Innovation practices (RI) into their company and innovation management. The COMPASS self-check tool (hereafter "the tool") has been developed as part of a European Union H2020 funded project COMPASS (Grant agreement number: 710543). Tool created by: Tharani, A., Jarmai, K. & Nwafor, C. together with the COMPASS (710543) project consortium. To learn more about the project and how the tool was develop please visit www.innovation-compass.eu.

Neither the COMPASS project team nor the European Commission accepts any responsibility or liability whatsoever with regard to the information provided in the Tool or user results. By using the COMPASS self-check tool, you are accepting all the terms of this disclaimer notice. If you do not accept these terms and conditions, do not use the Tool.

The COMPASS self-check tool is not a certification scheme. The Tool and the results it produces are for your information only. Since COMPASS does not verify your answers, the scores cannot be used for public communication. The Tool and its results are designed to be used for internal communication and decision making only, in order to inform your company priorities and further action.

Liability

Materials provided in the Tool are provided "as is", without warranty or representation of any kind, either expressed or implied, including, without limitation, warranties of merchantability, fitness for a particular purpose and non-infringement. COMPASS specifically does not make any warranties or representations as to the accuracy or completeness of any such Materials. COMPASS periodically adds, changes, improves or updates the Materials in the Tool without notice. Under no circumstances shall COMPASS be liable for any loss, damage, liability or expense incurred or suffered that is claimed to have resulted from the use of the Tool, including, without limitation, any fault, error, omission, interruption or delay with respect thereto. The use of the Tool is at the User's sole risk. Under no circumstances, including but not limited to negligence, shall COMPASS or its Consortium members be liable for any direct, indirect, incidental, special or consequential damages, even if COMPASS has been advised of the possibility of such damages.

The Tool contains links and references to third-party web sites. The linked sites are not under the control of COMPASS, and COMPASS is not responsible for the content of any linked site or any link contained in a linked site. COMPASS provides these links only as a convenience, and the inclusion of a link or reference does not imply the endorsement of the linked site by COMPASS.

Copyright Policy

The Tool is in its individual components and its entirety the property of the COMPASS Consortium and is protected by applicable intellectual property laws. The COMPASS self-check tool has been developed as part of a European Union H2020 funded project COMPASS (Grant agreement number: 710543). Main authors of the tool are Tharani, A., Jarmai, K. & Nwafor, C. along with the COMPASS (710543) project consortium.

The Tool is not to be reproduced, modified, sold, let for hire, sub-licensed or otherwise distributed, for commercial purposes and is made available "as is" without any warranty of any kind. Reuse is authorised, provided that the source is acknowledged.

Security and privacy

By accessing the tool, the user gives his consent that certain information about the user, such as Internet protocol (IP) addresses, navigation through the Tool, the software used and the time spent, along with other similar information, will be stored on COMPASS servers. These will not specifically identify the user.

The information will be used internally only for traffic analysis and academic research. If the user provides unique identifying information, such as name, address and other information on forms stored in the Tool, such information will be used only for statistical purposes and will not be published for third party access. COMPASS, however, assumes no responsibility for the security of this information.

All your data is stored in secure servers in full compliance with GDPR regulation. Only aggregated anonymized data is accessible to tool administrators and may be used for aggregated analyses about responsible innovation in a business context.

Where you voluntarily provide personal information (e.g. your email address), COMPASS will only use that information for the purpose for which it was intended and to communicate with you. COMPASS will keep any such personal information secure and will not disclose it to any third parties except as required by law. To view any personal information held by COMPASS, or if you have any concerns about personal information that COMPASS holds and wish to request its correction, you can email us or write to us.

Accuracy of results

COMPASS does not warrant or represent that any score or other result produced by this website or the Tool is accurate. Users should not use the results solely from the Tool as the basis for business decisions.

COMPASS reserves the right to make changes to the policies described above. Any and all changes to this policy will be posted here, and will take effect upon publication.

If you have any questions regarding these Terms and Policies please contact the COMPASS project coordinator, Institute for Managing Sustainability, Vienna University of Economics and Business, info@innovation-compass.eu.
